Writing Group

3:30 - 4:45 PM Group location will be offered upon registration and it will take place Thursdays, 3/31, 4/7, 14, 21

Writing is a creative tool that can help survivors process their experiences and emotions, often leading to deep understanding and release. ## MON Self-Care Containers

Group location will be offered upon registration and it will take place Mondays, 4/11, 18, 25, 5/2

One challenge of taking care of ourselves in healing work is finding the balance between focusing on our emotions and putting them away when it is time to focus on other areas of our lives. We're offering a group for folks to come together and create protective containers. Creating art as a place for emotion to live is an amazing way to heal, especially when we create in community with others. These containers will symbolize spaces to put away fears, nightmares, and worries, as well as a container full of positivity for when we need to reestablish hope. This support group is for survivors of interpersonal violence, and intakes are required.

Plant Program

Chanel will be speaking and answering questions about life, art, and literature as a multiracial Asian American woman. Join us on April 21st from 6-7pm MT for Chanel Miller's virtual keynote, with some in-person viewing options

Survivor Story Project

Many victims and survivors feel that sharing their story, even just portions of their story, is empowering and a key part of their healing and activism. This month we're creating a virtual platform for survivors of sexual harassment, sexual assault, and other forms of sexual violence to share their stories in a digital format. We're currently accepting story submissions now through April 27th at 11:59 pm. Whether or not you choose to share, we believe you.
